

jakob k. - your great imagination your great imagination

(music: jakob künzel / lyrics: nadia leonti)

i created a chamber for you and i know

sometimes it's small with silver boards give off the smell of wood sometimes it's a hall or even has no walls because of you it always changes

i created a chamber for you and i know

or maybe has no walls because of your great imagination
